Thanks to all! Without your help and hard work, our reunion week-end would not have been possible.

Our apologies for any errors that were made in printing the book. Please notify us of any corrections. Thank you!

Due to the May 23rd deadline, we were unable to print late responses to the questionnaire.

Remember.....

Monday, August 30, 1965 arrived and we were ready to begin the last lap of a 13 year journey. Our destination - Graduation City. This last lap, Route '66, promised to be the most exciting of all the previous traveled, and it was!

It was a very good year for setting one's goals, for deciding one's future, for making lasting friendships, and for carrying on the traditions of a school with a strong history of participation.

SENIOR CALENDAR

- November 20 - 12B Formal
- March 17 - Senior Breakfast
- April 15 - Senior Party
- May 4 - Senior Banquet
- May 13 - Variety Show
- May 27 - Junior - Senior Prom
- May 29 - Baccalaureate
- May 31 - Senior Assembly
- May 31 - Class Night
- June 1 - Commencement

Gradually and subconsciously we reached a higher plateau of understanding. For some, it was the culmination of a formal education. Hopefully, their school years served them well. For those who continued to seek higher learning, hopefully EHS built a strong foundation upon which to build their future.

Although our days at EHS can never be recaptured, we can never forget them as we still look to the challenges of tomorrow.

Like the time me and Steve George got hung up on a rock with our boat and didn't know it, or the time Charlie Soderquist ramed my boat going wide open with a 35 horse motor, or the time Charlie was loading his boat and decided he'd open the motor wide open and jump it on the trailer. When he hit the trailer the boat went sideways and threw him in the lake. Well the throttle was still wide open and the boat came around for another pass at the trailer. Charlie made a hell of a scramble to get out of the way. Then he had to get another boat and chase down his runaway boat.

(two great kids good East High material)

Employment: Chicago and Northwestern Railroad

Occupation: Locomotive Engineer

Comments: I went into the Navy in 1967 for four years. Why? I still don't know. I went to Hawaii for 4 months. Then I went to the Philippines for 22 months during the reign of Marcos. I came home from the Philippines in April of 69 for 30 days leave. I was married that May. I returned to Treasure Island (San Francisco) to wait for the U.S.S. Enterprise. We sailed from San Francisco on the U.S.S. Enterprise and headed for Norfolk, Virginia to go into dry dock for needed repairs to the ship. We were at sea for 30 days. On the way we crossed the Equator and was taken into King Neptunes Court where we were charged and delt with as dirty dogs of the sea. We then sailed on south and around Cape Horn the southern most point of the American Continents during the winter down there, which was through high winds and 35 to 45 foot waves (normal) winter conditions. I got out of the navy in 1970 and got a job at Pittsburgh Des Moines Steel for a while. I decided this was to much work so I went to DMACC for 3 years to be a computer programmer. Graduated in 73 with an Associate of Science degree in computer. In 1974 I got a job with the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad as a brakeman. In 1978 I changed over to be a locomotive engineer and I've been at this ever since. You might say that I pull trains for a living.

ROBERTSON, Linda (Skjeveland)

Spouse:

Children:

Employment: Norwest Bank

Occupation: Vice President

Comments: After my fun filled days at East, I decided college would be a breeze- how wrong! I discovered you have to study to pass, so I decided to move along. I went to work at a bank and still am. I often think of the days when the most important thing at East High was finding a car to jip sixth hour and get back in time for student center follies. High School days seemed tough, wanting to be liked, part of the "in" group, parents' pressure to maintain good grades and make the honor roll, and pimples & boys. It all seems pretty funny today. The friendships have endured and are still strong today. The memories of dear " old East High " days are still the best.

SASSATELLI, Tom
Spouse: Carole
Children: Tom jr. 14
Employment: Selling office furniture and interior design.
Comments: After graduation from East High in 1966, I attended Monmouth College where I received my teaching degree. From there, I moved to Madrid, Iowa where I taught history and economics for eight years as well as being the schools football and wrestling coach. In 1980, I moved to Phoenix, Arizona, where I met and married my present wife, Carole. In fact, we will be celebrating our fifth anniversary on July 4th!!

Although Carol and I love to travel and try to get away as much as possible, my main "love" is being father to my 14-year-old son, Tom. He has turned into a fine athlete with talent in soccer, baseball, football and basketball. (Somehow he never got interested in wrestling, though.) We are very proud of him.

I enjoy my job and never thought I could be a success in this field. I would have preferred to remain a teacher, but it's just about impossible to live on a teacher's salary. I feel very lucky to have found another profession I enjoy so much.

If you are ever out this way, please come by for a visit. We will probably be out lounging by the pool. And, I would love to hear from anyone who wants to write.

EXCERPTS FROM THE QUILL

The best jokes are not printed. They walk around on two legs.

The modern idea of roughing it is being barred from "FRISKIE'S".

"Did they take an x-ray of your wife's jaw at the hospital?"
"They tried to, but they got a moving picture."

A windshield that won't shatter is an improvement. Now give us rubber telephone poles.

Love is like an onion. You taste it with delight. But when you're through, you wonder whatever made you bite.

Prosecutor: "Now, tell the court how you came to take the car."

Defendant: "Well, the car was parked in front of the cemetery. So naturally I thought the owner was dead."

Mr. Schakel, annoyed by his clock-watching students, covered the face of the clock with this sign: "Time will pass - will you?"

Another great danger of one-arm driving is that you're so likely to skid into a church.

It's tough to make a mistake; but it's tougher to find out that you are so unimportant nobody noticed it.

You can tell a freshman by his silly, eager look.
You can tell a sophomore 'cause he carries one less book.
You can tell a junior by his dashing air and such.
You can tell a senior, but you can't tell him much!

Nowadays every East High senior wants life, liberty and an automobile in which to pursue happiness.

Mr. Johns: "What is the outstanding contribution that chemistry has given the world?"

Student: "Blondes!"

Mr. Neal, when addressing his first hour class - "I should like to make a few remarks before I say anything."

"Daddy, what is a bachelor?"
"A bachelor, my boy, is a man who didn't have a car when he was young."

Speak when you're angry and you'll make the best speech you'll ever regret.

Mary had a little watch.
She swallowed it, it's gone.
Now everywhere that Mary walks
"Time marches on."

Who's been stealing socks in the swimming locker room? Don't feel too bad, boys; how would you feel if they took your pants?

Congratulations, underclassmen — there haven't been any water fights so far this year.

Would you believe that these legs are representative of Atlantic City finalists! No? Well, how about contestants for East's "Mr. Legs Contest," held on April 22. Proceeds will be used for the senior plaque to be placed in the student center.

Mr. Bones Is Winner Of 1966 Leg Contest

A missing leg? Going swimming? Just plain legs. This is the sight that met the seniors' eyes during the "Mr. Legs Contest." This event took place in the auditorium Friday, April 23. It was sponsored by the Senior Board.

Each contestant had a representative to give a pep speech on why her contestant should win. While the representative gave her speech, the male contestant paraded across the stage showing his legs.

The representatives and their contestants were as follows: Dee Day represented Tom Russell; Sherri Reese represented Fred Fuller; Carolyn Wilson represented Doug McCaulley; Barbra Beving represented Robbie Reynolds; Kathie Maschke represented Steve Taylor; and Gay Emerson represented Doug Williams.

The students voted for their choices by putting money in the contestants' boxes. The contestant with the highest amount of money won.

Mr. Legs of 1966 is Tom Russell, (Mr. Bones). Robbie Reynolds (Batman), came in second. These two brought in $78 of the $150 that was collected.

The purpose of the contest was to raise money for the senior project. A total of $543 is the goal of the seniors. They reached this goal from the money collected by the 12B hostesses, and by selling newspapers.

Seniors Reach Goal—Purchase School Emblem

The climax of the year was reached for the seniors when they attained their goal by raising enough money to purchase an emblem to be placed somewhere in the school.

A total of $543.00 was needed to purchase the emblem. There were various projects in which seniors participated to raise the money.

The 12B hostesses donated $170. Another $142.88 was raised when seniors held a contest to name "Mr. Legs" of 1966. The rest of the money, $250.00, was raised by having a paper drive. Many seniors participated in collecting approximately 11 tons of newspapers.

The question has come up as to where to place the emblem. There are three possibilities: the new library (which will soon be constructed), the hall by the office or the student center.

The emblem is bronze and has the school motto engraved on it.

Neal Preaches on 'The Sinfulness of Gum'

Can it be true that social science teacher Mr. William Neal holds the secret to all sin, immorality and depravity? According to his theory, any student who chews gum is participating in a "sinful" life.

For three years Mr. Neal has staged a valiant campaign to stamp out the evil substance, gum. Many teachers merely ask students to deposit their gum in a wastebasket. This is too simple and much less effective to make an impression on the victim. Thus, Mr. Neal employs an innocent-looking cardboard box.

This container holds the property of several hundred alumni and present students.

When a student is spotted rhythmically chewing gum which may be acquired with baseball trading cards, Mr. Neal, possibly lecturing about the "3rd" Punic War, casually strolls over with the box.

Without a word the distraught student sheepishly files his gum amid the collection of memories. The lid is then replaced to keep a plague from spreading.

Next is the violent part—with a quick, graceful snap the box ricochets off the head of the embarrassed victim. This insures the impression desired.

There have been no fractured skulls, but the box has received a few bruises along with the ego of many students.

There is a happy ending. Mr. Neal realizes that he cannot confiscate personal property. Any student wanting his gum back can simply reclaim it at the end of the semester by identifying his wad of gum by matching teeth-marks.

CLASS OF '66 CONTRIBUTES MUCH

With only 13 days until Commencement, seniors suddenly become very nostalgic, recalling past events in their high school careers. They remember the good times and gala school events and forget the bitter disappointments and petty disagreements.

The Class of '66 will be able to recall more than pleasant times, however. They can look back proudly at their contributions to East. Accompanying this year's senior class have been a number of firsts.

This year brought the first musical presented at East in many years. "The King and I" was a financial as well as highly entertaining success.

An additional impetus to East's already spiraling school spirit was a mascot, the "Mighty Scarlet." Decked out in a brilliant red Indian costume and flowing headdress, this symbol of power sparked enthusiasm at games and assemblies.

One significant contribution has been made possible through the efforts of the senior class. Under tentative plans the school emblem will probably be in the student center where it will remind students and alumni of the proud traditions of East. Funds for the emblem were raised by the senior class through a variety of projects.

The senior class offers a challenge to all underclassmen to continue the precedents set by their illustrious predecessors. The senior class issues a summons to all to echo their cry: "HEY! RAH, RAH, EAST HIGH!"
